

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

My Decembers past... soft
swirling snowflakes,
towering pines, distant sleigh
bells, whispering winds,
snow angels, icicles
glistening, dark starry nights...

Each day in December I reflect on these beautiful images from my favorite poem, Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening by Robert Frost. This treasured poem captures my childhood in New Hampshire with memories of breathtaking snowfalls during the long winter months when life was simpler and our imaginations were often our only entertainment. And, I spend a few moments in meditation...inner peace, solitude, harmony and a sense of calm.

Ahhh, but this clever poet recognizes that one cannot stay idle as I (and we) have miles to go before I sleep. As we begin our journey through the days of December through the end of 2021... let us embrace 2022 with renewed friendships and enjoy our treasured gatherings through our WCGL membership. The best is yet to be!

Wishing you and your families joy during the Christmas and Hanukkah seasons...

Stopping by Woods on a Snowy Evening

Whose woods these are I think I know.
His house is in the village though;
He will not see me stopping here
To watch his woods fill up with snow.

My little horse must think it queer
To stop without a farmhouse near

Between the woods and frozen lake
The darkest evening of the year.

He gives his harness bells a shake
To ask if there is some mistake.
The only other sound's the sweep
Of easy wind and downy flake.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep,
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

Robert Frost, June 1922
